The Chicago Eagle PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY

An Independent Newspaper, Fearless and Tru-hful.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES $2.00 PER YEAR

ADDRESS ALL COMMUNICATIONS TO CHICAGO EAGLE 904 TEUTONIC BUILDING. tophones: Main 3913 — Auto. 31613, ast Corner Washington St. and 8th Ave.

BENRY F. DONOVAN, Editor and Publisher

Entered as Second Class Matter October 11, at the Post Office at Chicago, Illinois under lot of March 2, 1879.

ESTABLISHED OCTOBER 5, 1889.

incorporated under the Laws of

By Henry F. Donovan.

The Chicago Eagle is devoted to the publication of Municipal, State, County and Sanitary District news; to comment on people in public life; to clean Base Bail and Sports, and to the publication of General Political Information.

SATURDAY, JUNE 20, 1914.

ELKS CELEBRATE FLAG DAY.

A thousand Elks, their families and friends, filled the great Louis XVI room of the Hotel Sherman, Monday night, at the annual celebration of Flag Day, by Chicago Lodge No. 4, B. P. O. E. The large hall was profusely and tastefully draped with American flags. A choir of fifty voices rendered the national airs in a charming manner. This grand celebration was in accordance with the decree of the grand lodge that every Elk lodge shall celebrate this day. The program consisted of the flag ritual ceremonies, by the officers of other entertainment. Colonel Henry F. Donovan was the orator of the evening. Charles Beecher Lahan deliv-A. McCormick gave the history of the flag. Exalted Ruler Arthur W. Johnson presided.

Colonel Henry F. Donovan spoke as follows:

ner itself, as the sight of men, women staggering blow at the you their country's flag. (Applause.)

The flag of our country has ever clouds which have temporarily obscured it have always been dispelled

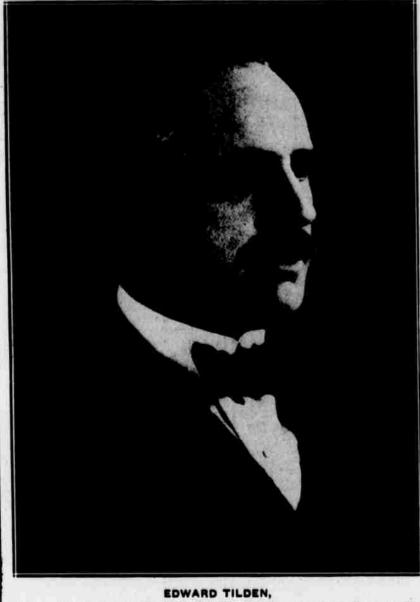

by a sunburst of glory. (Applause.) lowed their young flag with an enthusiasm never equalled. (Applause.) ers chased the British down the lane gomery, heading an American force,

Stars and Stripes kissed the breeze in joy at the inauguration of the great and good George Washington as first president of the United States. (Great applause.) The new republic had not catur, the hero of Tripoli and Algiers long to wait to show that its feeling of independence was rock rooted and that independence was the creed of famous toast at a banquet: the nation. For a long time the barbary states in Northern Africa, including Algiers and Tripoli, have been levying tribute upon the civilized na- wrong." (Applause.) tions of the world. To protect their seamen from capture and their subjects from being made slaves, they of the people. The trend of populapaid large sums to these Corsairs. The | tion was towards the mighty and pirates finally captured some Amer- boundless west. Texas peopled by icans and demanded ransom money for their release.

but not one cent for tribute." (Ap- galaxy of American states. Mexico plause.) Preble and Decatur humbled the buccaneers with the navy of the clared war. Our army was small but United States and the American flag brave. The flashes along the line at was saluted by Algerian and Tripoli- the storming of the heights of Chatan; the prisoners were released and pultapec and the great victory of indemnity was paid and ever after- Buena Vista crowned the American wards these terrors of the sea re- standards with fresh and imperishspected every vessel with the flag of able laurels. The tread of the Amer-American freedom on its mast. (Ap- ican soldier was soon heard in the plause.)

ican ships, torn by force from under brought under the American flag. (Apthe protection of the American flag plause.) and impressed into the British navy. The conclusion of the Mexican war, This state of affairs could not long in conquest and in glory, reawakened good one or what it was for.

Who as School Board President, Packer, Banker and Public-Spirited Citizen Has Done Much for Chicago.

tion. The United States declared the slumbering passions of a people national song to the glorious banner of the republic. In this dark hour, that we are gathered here tonight to there shown but one star of hope. honor. The British fleet was in front of Fort McHenry near Baltimore. It had with it many prison ships, on which were confined American prisoners taken during the war. On one of these was Francis Scott Key. Peering anxiously through the porthole of his floating dungeon, he beheld with the sunset the flag of his country floating in majesty over the ramparts of Fort McHenry. During the night the incessant roar of cannon and the bursting of shells over the American stronghold, kept his nerves at a tension, and with the dawn's early light, he beheld to his joy and gratification the star spangled banner still waving the lodge, accompanied by music and proudly in the breeze. The result written at the moment, which is now the national anthem of the American ered the address to the flag. John navy and the joy of the American people. (Great applause.)

This war, full of viscissitudes to the flag, which witnessed the glorious victory of Winfield Scott at Lundy's Lincoln. (Great applause.) Lane, waved up in a blaze of glory With the striking of the shackles Nothing is so inspiring, except it at New Orleans. Great Britain had off of Cuba and Porto Rico during be the unfurling of the glorious ban- determined if possible to strike a the late Spanish war, you are, of and children gathered to do honor to lic of America. She decided to seize New Orleans and the great territory of Louisiana recently acquired from been crowned with victory. The France and embracing all of the United States west of the Mississippi. With that end in view, she dispatched a most formidable force to the south-The war for independence was full ern coast of the Union. The army of sorrows and of suffering for the was composed of picked men. Its patriot Americans and yet they fol- commander was General Packenham, one of the generals under the Duke of Wellington in the Peninsular cam-From the day that the patriot farm- paign in Spain. Both Packenham and his troops were veterans who had at Lexington, to the day when Mont- held the lines of Torres Vedros against the attacks of armies comand slipping in his own blood, beheld manded by Marshals Massena and with his dying eyes the new-born ban- Soult. The French soldiers repelled ner of freedom upon the heights of by the British veterans were men Quebec, there was no faltering. (Ap- who had, under Napoleon himself, plause.) The sufferings endured by mingled the agles of France with the American soldiers at Valley Forge | the eagles of the Alps, and won the and in the lines investing the British | great battles of Marengo, of Ulm and at New York, the perils of many bat- of Austerlitz. But these heroes of tles and the humiliations of defeat, Torres Vedros and conquerors of conwere forgotten at last when the Star querors, were whipped out of their Spangled Banner waved in triumph boots by Andrew Jackson at New Orand in victory over the surrendered leans. (Applause.) There were British lines at Yorktown. (Applause.) Tories in the war of 1812 as there The winning of independence found had been in the Revolutionary warthe American people living under a men who stabbed their country in rather uncertain form of government the back and opposed the war from in thirteen different states. This the beginning. Even after the treaty lasted for a few years, when consti- of peace, which won for the country tutional union was effected and the everything that it asked for, these critics kept up their attacks on their native land. It was in answer to these stay-athome fault-finders that Stephen Deand the hero of many a sea fight during the combat of 1812, offered this

"Our Country: In her intercourse with foreign nations, may she ever be right, but our country, right or

The growth of the republic kept pace with the progressive interests Americans had declared her independence of Mexico. The Lone Star after immediately the cry went up in the ten years of a republic of its own, United States; "Millions for defense, was knocking for admission to the growled. The United States admitted Texas to the Union. Mexico de halls of the Montezumas and the The pride of independence and the American flag floated over the City of love of country were the impelling Mexico itself. (Applause.) By this causes of the war of 1812. Great war the country extended itself to Britain had long been pursuing a policy which irritated the patriotic feel-added to its domain the golden soil ings of the American people. Amer- of California. Not only California, ican citizens by birth or naturaliza- but New Mexico, Nevada, Utah and tion were ruthlessly taken from Amer- Colorado with other territory, were war upon England to avenge these divided upon the question of slavery. wrongs. It was a war full of priva- The clouds of war and of disunion tions and sufferings, but it had its gathered upon the horizon and obrecompense. One of these was the scured for a moment the glorious sun That star was in the diadem of the goddess of liberty and in her hand was borne the emblem of our liberties-the stars and stripes. (Applause.) The banner gave confidence to the patriot and steadled the arm of the nation. The war between the states, the conflict between brothers, was long and bitterly contested. Victories like Bull Run or Manassas and Chickamauga on one side for Chattanooga or Stone River on the other, only inspired a continuation of the conflict. In the midst of these dangers and in the darkness and misery of the bloody strife, when brother Americans were quickly forming in the ranks of war, there was one man was the immortal hymn from his pen, who could look beyond the din and despair of the hour. He could see with prophetic vision, his country re-united. Its banners resplendant with glorious achievements and, crowned with victory, advancing to a career of peace. That man was Abraham is of our own making. Men and women, we are citizens of one coun try; children of one destiny. Under the glorious folds of the American flag we enjoy our liberty. Jew and Gentile; Catholic and Protestant; Republican and Democrat: Progressive and Socialist. Men and women of faith, of every creed, of every shade of political opinion. Men and women from every country in Europe. Native born or naturalized, citizens of the United States, our common country, how happy we should be, "with freedom's soil beneath our feet, and freedom's banner streaming o'er us." (Great applause.)

NEW POLICE AND FIRE.

An appropriation of $1,734,000 for the rehabilitation of the police and fire departments was recommended to the city council by the finance committee. Of this amount $1,159,000 is to be spent for police stations and $575,000 for fire stations.

The plan for the police department is practically the same as was contemplated when the $2,500,000 bond issue was submitted to the voters last April with the exception that the proposed central station costing $1,346. 000 has been eliminated. The project as recommended to the council pro vides for thirty-one police districts and five sub-districts, the existing forty-four police precincts being mod ified in accordance with the police reorganization ordinance. The plans provide for the modernizing of housing conditions for members of the force and installation of modern and sanitary accommodations for prisoners. There are to be three women's stations.

The fire department appropriation provides for the erection of eight new engine stations and six hook and ladder stations at a cost of $339,000. Ar additional $236,000 is to be spent for rehabilitating existing stations.

HARVESTER TRUST PERKINS.

New York, June 10.-Amos Pinchot ade public today the text of the confidential letter he recently addressed to Theodore Roosevelt, the members of the progressive national committee and other leaders, denouncing George W. Perkins, chairman of the national executive committee, as a menace to the party, principally because of his affiliation with the United States Steel corporation and the International Harvester company, "two great monopo lies which have succeeded most com pletely in exploiting the public and crushing organized labor." The letter opens by declaring that "a situation exists in the progressive party which must be terminated before it can com mand general popular support."

Present aldermen who have passed bogus checks would probably not be particular about who handed them a

VOTED FOR HIM TWICE ON SAME DAY

Representative Michael Donoho of Philadelphia, who, his friends boast and his enemies admit, won his election less upon political issues than his attractive personality, takes but a small part in practical politics.

"I'm very green at the game," he declares (a good color for a nativeborn Irishman, by the way), "which makes me somewhat of a shining mark in some respects. The morning after my last election there breezed into my office a fellow, large and pleasant. He effusively congratulated me with both hands and every breath -which was alcoholically overcharged-and assured me of the satisfaction it had given him to vote for me. Thanking him, I asked:

"What part of the district do you

"'Oi'm from over th' bridge,' he replied in rich County Carlow brogue! (Mr. Donohoe doesn't have to make any effort to get that brogue.) "This meant nothing to me, ignorant of political metes and bounds, so

"What ward do you live in?" "'And Oi'm in Kelly's ward, to be sure, y'r honor,' he replied.

"Kelly's ward?' I queried, for I did know enough to identify a well-known local leader. 'Why Kelly's ward isn't in my district at all!'
"Sure, an' it isn't at all, at all,' exclaimed the sly rogue, with delightful coolness. 'But I voted for yes, Misther Donohoe,' he added with a chuckle—

"JERRY" DONOVAN'S CHANGE OF HEART

Representative "Jerry" Donovan Democrat from Connecticut, who bristles indignantly when he contemplates absenteelsm in the house, re-nounced the other day an opportunity to preside over that body and gave to Speaker Clark the credit of unintentionally preventing a night session.

Under the special rule for the consideration of the antitrust bills the house was to hold night sessions while general debate continued. When the hour for the dinner recess arrived one Saturday Representative Webb asked unanimous consent that adjournment be taken until Monday, setting aside the night session.

"I object," said Mr Donovan. We have nobody to speak," said Mr. Webb, casting his eye over the twenty-odd members present. "Then go ahead with the reading of the bill," said Mr. Donovan. "Where is everybody? Where are the distinguished gentlemen who ought to be on the Republican side?"

his first term, "I will withdraw my objection."

The house adjourned until Monday.

'Where are the Democrats?" interjected a voice from the Republican side. "Well, I'm tired of all this debate," said Mr. Donovan. "You must meet tonight unless the gentleman in charge of the bill agrees to knock off five Mr. Webb said he couldn't think of doing this. Both Republicans and mocrats crowded around the Connecticut member to beg him not to force night session. He shook his head. "The chair names the gentleman from Connecticut to preside at the night session," said Speaker Clark. Mr. Donovan became thoughtful. "Rather than preside over this body," said Mr. Donovan, who is serving

WINGO TELLS ONE ON HIMSELF

Representative Otis Wingo of Ar kansas looks more like the southern congressman imaged in the popular mind than any man in the capital's public life. In Prince Albert coat, black slouch hat and black string tie falling over a capacious expanse of white shirt front, as he walks sedately down the corridor, he seems to have stepped bodily from the pages of some political novel.

And Mr. Wingo knows it; also he is proud of it. Hence, when he told the following little story on himself it was only upon the solemn oath of his auditor that not a word of it should appear in print.

It seems that Mr. Wingo, having in tow a visiting constituent whom he wished to impress with his political magnitude, was standing waiting at the door of an elevator in the House office building. Mr. Wingo rang the bell; but to his disgust the descending elevator swept airily by ithout even besitating. This burt. "Why didn't you stop for me on your way down just now?" queried Mr. Wingo sourly as they were descending on the next trip. "Couldn't stop for you," replied the elevator boy with lofty finality. "Had congressman on board." "And this," ejaculated Mr. Wingo, as he told the story, "before that con-

MAN WHO CAPTURED SANTA ANNA

"And so Gen. Santa Anna surrenfered to me," said Sergt. Peter Daly, and I introduced him to the line sergeant, and off we all went to Gen. Winfield Scott. And." Sergeant Daly added, impressively, "that ended the war."

On the porch of his daughter's comfortable frame cottage in the Bronx, New York city, on these warm days sits Peter Daly, and smokes his pipe, and tells what he remembers of "the war." There is only one war for Peter Daly, and although he is ninety-one years old, and no one thinks of calling him "Sergeant" nowadays, the salient episodes of his career as a fighter stand out as clearly, and as significantly, as if they had happened yesterday. Sergt. Peter Daly has almost forgotten that the Civil war was ever fought, or that we had battles in 1898 in the West Indies and Manila bay. The Mexican war was his war, and Winfield Scott was mander surrendered.

his general. And he, Peter Daly, was the man to whom the Mexican com-"It wasn't any of my doing," he explains, lest pride in his good fortune be mistaken for a false self-esteem. "I just happened to be on the end of the line. That was how it was I took charge of him. "I was a cavalryman in the Seventh New York, and I was on guard duty at the east end of the division line. It was a long front, about a mile, and I was on the very end of it. And I saw a man comingtoward the line, all alone, with a white handkerchief. Well, I didn't know who it was at first. And then I saw it was Santa Anna. Yes, sir. It was Santa Anna himself, cominf to surrender. And he surrendered to me. I was on post where he came, so I took him in charge."

Distinguished Lawyer and Publicist.and Upbuilder of Chicago.

EAGLETS.

Henry Stuckart, who is a strong candidate for County Treasurer, has always filled every office to which he has been elected to the satisfaction of the people.

Charles Beecher Lahan, the popular vice president of the big Regan Printing House, is not only a fine public speaker but he is a charming and forceful writer upon all topics. Speaking of the Regan Printing House, perhaps the finest work of its kind we have ever seen, in binding, type and contents, is the "Story of Chicago," issued by the Regan Printing House. It is not only a reliable history of early Chicago, but it is the most complete and authentic history ever published of every daily and weekly newspaper ever printed in this city.

Ambrose A. Worsley, good lawyer and Democratic war horse, would make a great judge of the Municipal

Two thousand Chicago Elks will invade Evanston Monday, June 22. The cause of this exodus from the city is the institution of a new lodge in Evanston. Arthur W. Johnson, exalted ruler of Chicago Lodge No. 4, will act as master of ceremo

Chicago Elks will assemble at the club home of No. 4, at 154 West Washington street, Monday afternoon at 2 p. m. Upon their arrival in Evanston at 3 p. m., the institution ceremonies will begin, lasting through afternoon

George Bruce, chief clerk in the municipal court who is very popular in the 35th ward, will probably be nominated and elected representative from the 23rd district.

Alderman Henry P. Bergen of the Thirty-first ward has made a most useful alderman and his career has been full of honor for himself and is constituents.

Michael S. Hyland would make the best president of the County Board that Cook County has ever had, if he should be nominated by the Democrats for that office. His knowledge of county affairs is better than that of any other man that we know of, and his record as a business man, as head of the great Chicago firm of A. H. Andrews & Company, and other big interests, would be a guarantee of a good business administration in the interest of the taxpayers.

Judge Joseph Sabath is making a splendid record on the Municipal bench. His decisions are always just, merciful and full of common sense.

Charles C. Stilwell of the Twentyfifth ward, one of the best known and best liked lawyers in Chicago, will probably be one of the Democratic nominees for Municipal judge this fall. A better man could not be nom-

Isaac N. Powell would make an ideal member of the Board of Review.

Why doesn't the government get after the Harvester Trust? Is it because there is too much money behind it? Is it because its political contributions have been very large? Is it the policy of the government to harrass small offenders and let big ones escape? The people expected the Democratic party to do something with this trust.

What is the matter with the Department of Justice? Who has tied its hands in the mat ter of the Harvester Trust?

From all over the country we hear the question: "What mysterious influence has always prevented Uncle Sam from getting after the Harvester Trust?" We are informed that a binder which costs $35 to make is sold for $120. A mower which costs $20 is sold for $42. A corn harvester which costs $55 is sold for $120. A corn shredder which costs $75 is sold to $235. That is the way the farmers are "cinched." Such prices are due to

Many a farmer first learned that a change was in progress when he needed some small part to replace one broken in his well-preserved Champion or Osborne or Buckeye or Adriance influential number of friends. He has or Milwaukee or Walter A. Wood reap a fine record for honesty and ability.

er or mower and found that the parts no longer were on sale. Why is it that he finds now only two makes to choose between in the majority of communities—the McCormick and the Deering?

The trust makes the plows and the harrows with which the soil is prepared. It makes the seeders and the drills. It makes the mowers, the hay rake, the corn cutters and implements used to produce almost all the nine thousand million dollars' worth of farm and agricultural wealth each year.

In 1902 there was keen competition among the various manufacturers, the most powerful being the McCormick Harvester Machine Company, controlled by John D. Rockefeller, whose daughter married a McCormick.

George W. Perkins, then partner of J. P. Morgan, enlisted the interest of Cyrus K. McCormick, who obtained a $1,000,000 option on the plant of the Milwaukee Harvester Co. Then he and Perkins held a conference with the other big makers, the Deerings, the Joneses and the Glessners, and the International Harvester Co. was formed.

The capital was $120,000,000, about $15,000,000 in excess of the very generous valuation put upon the various plants by their owners, $5,000,000 being a bonus for J. P. Morgan & Co. Immediately after the merger the international Harvester Co., the trust, acquired by purchase four of its principal competitors—D. M. Osborne & Co., for $4,000,000, Aultman, Miller & Co., for $700,000. The Minneapolis Harvester Co. for $700,000 and the The plants of the Minneapolis company, manufacturing the Minnie harvester, and of Aultman, Miller & Co., manufacturing the Buckeye, were at once shut down, the two plants having been bought for $1,400,000 perhaps to destroy them.

In less than one year from the establishment of the trust, it controlled more than 90 per cent of the total harvester business of the United States.

The harvester trust enjoys various privileges from the steel trust, both being under the control of Morgan interests. The harvester trust gets money from the Morgan banks in New York at 3 or 4 per cent and loans it to farmers, by selling machines on credit with an interest rate of 6 to 10 per cent.

Women can vote for the following ficers to be elected next November: Trustees University of Illinois. Clerk of the Apellate court.

Two members board of assessors. Member board of review. Three sanitary trustees. Ten judges of the Municipal court. Women cannot vote for the follow ing officers to be elected next Novem-

County Treasurer. State treasurer. Superintendent of public instruc-

Clerk of Supreme court. United States senator. Representatives in Congress, two at arge and one from each district.

State senators. State representatives. County clerk. County judge. Clerk, Probate court. Clerk, Criminal court. County superintendent of schools. President, county board.

County commissioners.

Henry C. Bettler is popular with all classes of people. Republicans could not name a stronger man for County William Hale Thompson has hosts of friends among the Democrats and Progressives who would like to see him elected Mayor. He is looming up as the probable Republican candidate.

William L. O'Connell would make a good Mayor.

Thomas F. Scully has made such good record on the Municipal Bench that his friends are determined to make him County Judge.

Daniel L. Cruice is in the race for County Judge, backed by a large and influential number of friends. He has